INTRODUCTION

“Innovation is the specific tool of entrepreneurs, the means by which they exploit change as an opportunity for a different business or a different service.”

-Peter F. Drucker, Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Entrepreneurs innovate. Innovation is the specific instrument of Entrepreneurship. It is the act that endows resources with a new capacity to create wealth. Innovation, indeed, creates a resource. There is no such thing as a 'resource' until man finds a use for something in nature and thus endows it with economic value. Until then, every plant is a weed and every mineral just another rock. Entrepreneurship is an attitude of mind which can take risks but calculated ones; a true entrepreneur is one who can see possibilities in a given situation where others see none and has the patience to work out the idea into a scheme to which financial support can be provided. It is one of the catalytic activities fostering initiative, promoting and maintaining economic activities and distribution of wealth. According to Peter Drucker, the entrepreneurial strategy is as important as purposeful innovation and entrepreneurial management. In a way society needs innovation and entrepreneurship in a normal, steady and an ongoing basis.

From Desk of Entrepreneurship and Development Cell

The Entrepreneurship and Development Cell (EDC) of VCACS fosters entrepreneurs of all academic specialties. Our goal is to help students discover their inner entrepreneur and develop the skills and resources for success and creativity.

The EDC promotes campus entrepreneurship. This includes finding and developing entrepreneurial potential, teaching skills, providing tools and support, stimulating invention and creativity, networking, and promoting an entrepreneurial mentality.

EDC recognizes entrepreneurship creates jobs, economic growth, and social transformation. We encourage students' creativity, train them business startup and operation, and prepare them for challenges.

A catalyst, the EDC team helps students become entrepreneurs. They host entrepreneurship awareness and leadership events, workshops, and seminars. They organize the cell's many activities.

A catalyst, the EDC team helps students become entrepreneurs. They host entrepreneurship awareness and leadership events, workshops, and seminars. They organize the cell's many activities. Entrepreneurship is taught in the EDC cell to complete the education. The curriculum incorporates entrepreneurship projects and themes. Famous companies typically talk in the cell.

Their industry tours give students experience. To boost professional networks and collaboration, the cell hosts networking events and links students with established entrepreneurs and investors.

The cell organizes workshops, seminars, guest lectures, and interactive sessions on innovation, market research, finance, and business growth. Students' entrepreneurial abilities have increased considerably by learning business development best practices and how to compete in today's competitive market. Students can become entrepreneurs using EDC cell resources, networking, and mentoring. They help potential entrepreneurs find investors, create business ideas, and provide continuing support.

The EDC cell also works with the college's Placement Cell to introduce students to entrepreneurship. Institutions aggressively pursue accelerator, incubator, and other entrepreneurial ties to offer startup internships and jobs. The EDC cell facilitates student entrepreneurship to build responsible inventors and entrepreneurs.
